Focus Word of the Month

Peace: A state of calmness and quietness in which there is freedom from worry

We encourage you to get away from the worries of life and experience peace this month by creating quiet moments with God. Try praying for peace during times of chaos, reading a Bible verse that calms your soul, or going for a walk in nature to count your blessings.

Coordinator Appreciation

We appreciate our coordinators and the POWER they bring to PFE. Keep an eye out for a gift coming in the mail! We encourage our PFE students to do something special for your coordinator this month to show your gratitude.

School Spotlight

Greetings from the Grays Harbor Adventist Christian School on the west coast of Washington State!

Our school has been in the PFE program since 2017. We learned about the program from another principal that was facilitating it at her school. Initially, we saw this as a great way to help students with their tuition bill. However, the PFE has more far reaching benefits than financial assistance. Foremost, we care and choose to be a part of the PFE because mentors can share their talents, young people can learn from their mentors, and these multi-generational friendships create lasting bonds. The following is from one of our mentors.

“After over 30 years of elementary teaching, I was forced into retirement because of health issues. These health issues not only made me leave a career that I loved, it affected my ability to leave my home independently for the last 2 1/2 years. But God is faithful. Not only has His Holy Spirit been at work in my heart, revealing God's character and revealing a deeper Truth in His Word, my Heavenly Father has blessed me in many ways. One of these blessings was the invitation to be a part of the PFE mentorship program.

I cannot begin to tell you how excited I was to work with my mentee, Jace. We have read together, worked on math, baked cookies, put together puzzles, played board games and even skipped rocks in the creek behind my house. I got an extra bonus as I have also spent time on occasion with Jace's family too. Jace's mom and I have got to know each other better and we went through a Bible study together this Fall. We text back and forth often and, in some ways, I feel like I am a grandma to the Warne children.

To those that support and organize the PFE program, I would like to thank you for brightening my day and enriching my life in being a part of a program that reaches across generations. And to my Heavenly Father, I thank You for your continued presence...and the peace and joy You bring into my life, even when life doesn't go the way we expect. May You receive all glory!”

In Christian love, Chris Collin
